This incident does not indicate the general nature of the fighting, which was most desperate. It lasted until midnight, when the Americans, aided by German prisoners, had dug in to maintain their gains, and an American unit in the open on the right had forced its way as far north as the point of the woods, completely straightening the line.

The Germans, with the exception of one captain, who knew before we did that we had him surrounded, fought until they were driven from their strongholds by hand grenades or bayonets. They reserved their rifle and machine gun fire until the Americans closed in.

German losses in dead and wounded were heavy, while our losses were not disproportionate to the success obtained.

FRENCH REPORT 150 CAPTURED.

PARIS. June 26.-American troops carried out a brilliant attack near Belleau Wood last night, capturing 150 prisoners, one of whom was a captain, according to the statement issued by the War Office to-day.

The discrepancy between the number of prisoners mentioned in the Paris official and direct newspaper reports may be due to the fact that the news despatch may have been filed later than the Paris report.

IN FRANCE YEAR AGO TO-DAY: 1,000,000 TO BE THERE IN JULY of American Force Abroad Made Up of Combatant Units.

WASHINGTON, June 26. THE first division of the American Army landed in France one year ago to-day, eighteen days after Gen. Pershing reached French soil. In twelve months this division has grown to an army in size, and by July a million men, all told, will have been sent forward. Behind this million, another 1,000.000 men are in camps and cantonments in America, and a third million will rapidly fill the gaps as

The first anniversary found American troops facing the Germans on six different sectors, including parts of the front in Picardy, in Planders, on the Marne, in Alsace and on the original Tout sector at the right of the French line. While the offensive operations of the Germans have made it necessary to draw the American troops away from their first assigned front in the region of Toul, the plan for America, as worked out by the Allied Supreme War Council as recent events disclose, calls or the taking over of the entire right flank of the western front, with the French in the centre and the British on the left.

The feeling of officials here upon the first anniversary was summed up in the following statement from Secretary Baker: "The achievements of the past year have been entirely satisfactory." Twelve months have witnessed the transportation to France, over 3,000 miles of ocean infested with German submarines, sufficient troops to form the substance of the first field army of eighteen infantry divisions, should Gen. Pershing choose to assemble his forces into a single fighting upit. Secretary Baker estimated to-day that between sixty-five and seventy per cent. of the men already shipped are combatant troops in the strictest sense of the word. The first division has now been expanded to a fighting force of 650,000 men, backed by an organization of the supply and transport lines that it takes 250,000 men to make effective.
